Choosing Future Super

Future Super is a choice fund, which means we are unable to accept default members. To become a member of Future Super you may join via our Online Join Form or complete the paper Application Form and submit it to us. You can only have one accumulation account open with the Fund at any time.

Future Super offers members a choice of three investment options – Balanced Index, Balanced Impact and Renewables Plus Growth. You must make an investment selection at the time of joining. You may change your selected option at any time through the Online Member Account at www.futuresuper.com.au.

Additional information about our investment options and any other documents that must be disclosed in accordance with superannuation law is available on our website at www.futuresuper.com.au. To access information regarding the Trustee, including the policies that the Trustee must make available to members such as executive remuneration disclosure and any other document that must be disclosed under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Regulations 1994 (Cth), please visit www.diversa.com.au/trustee/governance.

Section 2 – How super works

Superannuation is a way to save for your retirement that is, in part, compulsory. The Government provides incentives like tax concessions to encourage you to save. Because superannuation is taxed differently to other investments, adding to your super can be a great way to grow your wealth for a better retirement.

It's Your Choice

Generally, it's compulsory for employers to make regular contributions to their employees' super. This is known as Superannuation Guarantee (SG) contributions. Most people can choose which super fund their employer pays their SG contributions into. Ask your employer to see if you can make a Choice of Fund.

If you haven't exercised Choice of Fund in the past, it's possible that you might have had a new super account created for you each time you've joined a new employer, even if you already had an existing super account. To stop the creation of multiple super accounts, from 1 November 2021 the Government is introducing a system whereby your existing super fund will be 'stapled' to you when you change jobs. This means that when you start a new job, your employer will pay SG contributions to the same fund you had at your last job, unless you take action to make a change. Your employer will obtain information about your existing super fund from the ATO. If you have never had a super account before you will need to choose one, or your employer will create an account for you with their default fund.

It is important to take an interest in your super, including the fund it's being paid into. More information on choice and stapling is available at www.ato.gov.au/super.

Contributing to Super

Contribution types available to Future Super members are:

- Employer contributions
- Salary sacrifice (voluntary and before-tax)
- Personal contributions (voluntary and after-tax)
- Rollovers (transferring from another super fund into your Future Super account)
- Spouse contributions

Annual limits apply to the amount of contributions that can be paid into your super fund – both from your employer and personally. Further information is provided in the Additional Information Booklet available at www.futuresuper.com.au or by calling us on 1300 658 422.

Withdrawing from Super

Superannuation is intended to provide for your retirement. You cannot access your super until you reach your preservation age or meet another condition of release. Once you reach age 60 and permanently retire, your money can be taken out of super tax-free as a pension income stream or a lump sum.

What's my preservation age?

Date of Birth	Benefits Preserved Until You Reach The Age Of
Before 1 July 1960	55
1 July 1960 to 30 June 1961	56
1 July 1961 to 30 June 1962	57
1 July 1962 to 30 June 1963	58

Section 4 – Risks of super

Superannuation, like all investments, carries risks. Future Super invests in different types of assets, including Australian shares, International shares, property, alternative assets and fixed interest. Different asset classes have different levels of risk. Assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk.

How these risks affect you will depend on a range of factors including: your age, your investment timeframe, your risk tolerance, what other investments you hold, and how they are invested. You should assess your personal position carefully before making an investment decision.

Risks you should understand when considering your super investment:

- The value of your investment will go up and down.
- Returns are not guaranteed and will vary, so future investment returns may differ from past returns.
- You may lose some or all of your money.
- The amount of your super savings (including contributions and returns) may not be enough to provide adequately for your retirement.
- Superannuation laws may change in the future.
- Changes in company operations or philosophy may cause temporary ethical non-compliance in your investments.

The significant risks associated with this product include investment risks arising from:

- Changes in the economic and political climate.
- Changes in government policies and superannuation laws.
- Changes in interest rates.
- Use of derivatives.
- Inadequate diversification.
- Investment decisions made by the Investment Manager or external fund managers.

You should read the important information about the risks of investing with Future Super before making a decision. For more information, read Section 3 of the Additional Information Booklet available at www.futuresuper.com.au or call 1300 658 422. The information relating to the risks of investing with Future Super may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire this product.

Section 5 – How Future Super invests your money

This PDS offers a summary of how your money will be invested in the Future Super Balanced Index investment option. For details on the other investment options please see the Additional Information Booklet available at www.futuresuper.com.au or call 1300 658 422.

Choosing your Investment Strategy

Future Super offers members a choice of three investment options which consider the environment, social issues, ethical issues and labour standards in the investment process and the ongoing management of investments: Future Super Balanced Index, Future Super Balanced Impact and Future Super Renewables Plus Growth.

If you do not choose an investment option, if your instruction is not clear to the Trustee, or if your allocation does not equal 100% to one investment option, and we are unable to clarify your instructions, your application to join Future Super will not be accepted. You may change your selected option at any time through the Online Member Account at www.futuresuper.com.au.

WARNING: When choosing your investment option, it is important to consider the likely investment return and risk, and to select an option that best suits your age, investment timeframe, risk tolerance, and where other parts of your wealth are invested.

Future Super Balanced Index - Investment Strategy

Investment Return Objective

CPI + 2.50% per annum over rolling ten-year periods (after fees and taxes).

Investment Strategy

The option aims to invest in a diverse mix of assets with the majority in the growth assets such as shares, and a modest investment in defensive assets such as cash and fixed interest. The option's exposure to these asset classes will be obtained primarily by holding assets directly, including Exchange Traded Funds. This option targets investments that are ethically screened and have zero exposure to fossil fuels. Where possible the exposures will be managed based on a series of rules-based models (Indexes). This option aims to provide investors with the highest possible returns consistent with a 'balanced' investment strategy. Specific allocations may vary but the Fund will retain a broad 70/30 split between growth and income assets and a bias toward Australian assets.

Section 6 – Fees and costs

Did You Know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000). You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To Find Out More

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options (<https://moneysmart.gov.au/how-super-works/superannuation-calculator>).

Fees and Costs

You should read all the information about fees and costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment. The following table sets out the fees and costs for an investment in the Future Super Balanced Index investment option. These fees and costs can be deducted directly from your account balance, from the calculation of the option's investment return before it is allocated to your account, or from the Fund's assets as a whole. The fees quoted in this section are inclusive of GST. Entry fees and exit fees cannot be charged. For a list of definitions relating to fees, please refer to section 5 of the Additional Information Booklet available at www.futuresuper.com.au or the fee definition FAQ at www.futuresuper.com.au.

WARNING: If you consult a financial adviser, additional fees may be payable to the adviser. You should refer to the adviser's Statement of Advice for details.

⁶ Other fees, such as activity fees and insurance fees, may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity or insurance chosen by you. Refer to the Additional Information Booklet available at www.futuresuper.com.au for more information. Taxes, insurance fees and other costs relating to insurance are set out in sections 7 and 8 of this PDS.

⁷ The Indirect Cost Ratio (ICR) is the estimated indirect cost of underlying investments in each investment option. The ICR is inclusive of external management costs, transactional and operational costs and if and where applicable, performance-related fees. The ICR shown is the estimated cost incurred for the 12 months ended 30 June 2021 based on information provided by the underlying fund managers. The ICR is included in the unit price of each investment option and actual costs may vary depending on the investment option you choose. Section 7 - How super is taxed

This section provides a summary of the significant tax information relating to super. It is based on the laws that apply on the date this PDS is issued. The information provided is general in nature and we recommend that you seek advice from a professional adviser to determine your personal obligations before making a decision.

Superannuation may be taxed at three distinct phases: When contributions are made to your account; on earnings that are generated for or by the superannuation fund; and when withdrawals are made from your account.

Tax on Contributions to Your Super Account*

Type of Contribution	Contribution Cap	Tax Rate
Concessional (before-tax contributions) E.g., employer contributions, salary sacrifice contributions, contributions by those who are substantially self-employed.	$27,500 per annum Higher if you have unused carry-forward concessional contribution caps and your total superannuation balance is less than $500,000.	15%^ - If the contribution cap is exceeded, the rate is your top marginal rate plus the Medicare Levy.
Non-Concessional (after-tax contributions) E.g., personal contributions, spouse contributions.	$110,000 per annum (or $330,000 under the bring forward rule ²) Nil - if your total superannuation balance exceeds $1.7 million.	Nil - If the contribution cap is exceeded, you can choose to withdraw the excess contributions and any earnings. The earnings are then included in your income tax assessment and taxed at your marginal rate. If you don't withdraw the earnings, the excess is taxed at the top marginal rate plus the Medicare levy.

* This information relates to the financial year 1 July 2021 to 30 June 2022.

² Those earning over $250,000 per annum are required to pay contributions tax of 30%, while those earning less than $37,000 per annum may be eligible to receive a low income super tax offset on the 15% contributions tax, provided we have your tax file number on record.

If you are under 67 years of age, you may be eligible to make non-concessional contributions of up to three times the annual non-concessional contributions cap in a single year. This is known as the "bring forward" rule. For more information, see the Additional Information Booklet.

WARNING: There will be taxation consequences if the applicable contribution caps are exceeded.

Tax on Investment Earnings

The earnings in the Fund for accumulation member accounts will be taxed at a maximum rate of 15%, however the rate may be lower due to tax credits or other tax rebates. This tax is calculated and deducted before investment returns are applied to your super account. In cases where any tax is deducted from your superannuation contributions or balance, it is forwarded by us to the ATO.

WARNING: You should provide your TFN when acquiring this product. If we don't hold your TFN then: higher tax will apply to your concessional contributions; we cannot accept member contributions for you; the tax on superannuation benefits may be higher; and it may be more difficult to locate any lost super benefits or consolidate your superannuation.. Further information about tax is available from www.ato.gov.au.

Tax on Withdrawals as a Lump Sum from your Super Account*

Age	Component and Tax Treatment for Withdrawals
Age 60 or over	No tax incurred on withdrawals
Preservation age (generally age 55) to age 59	Tax free component* does not incur tax Taxable component <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The first $225,000 is nil The amount above $225,000 is taxed at 15% (plus Medicare levy)

Total and Permanent Disablement benefit	Total and Permanent Disablement benefits are taxed at different rates, depending on your age when you were disabled.
Income Protection benefit	The benefits paid under Income Protection cover are paid as taxable income, similar to salary or wages. Any payments will be made once PAYG tax has been deducted.

You should read the important information about how super is taxed before making a decision. For more information, read Section 6 of the Additional Information Booklet available at www.futuresuper.com.au or call 1300 658 422. The information relating to how super is taxed may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire this product.

Section 8 – Insurance in your super

This section provides a brief summary of the insurance options that, subject to meeting eligibility requirements, you may be able to access as a member of Future Super. You should refer to the Insurance Guide available at www.futuresuper.com.au or contact us on 1300 658 422 for full details.

Type of Insurance	Description of Insurance
Death cover	A lump sum benefit is payable in the event of your death or terminal illness diagnosis. You can advise the Trustee of the person you would like to receive your death benefit if you die through a non-lapsing binding or a non-binding nomination.
Death and Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD) cover	A lump sum is payable in the event you become totally and permanently disabled.
Income Protection cover	Also known as Salary Continuance cover, this type of insurance cover pays a regular monthly income should you be unable to work due to illness or injury (subject to acceptance of your claim by the Insurer).

There are costs associated with insurance cover. Different premium rates apply to different types of cover based on your personal circumstances including your age, gender, occupation, health status and the amount of cover you elect to hold. You are responsible for paying the insurance costs. Insurance premiums, calculated in accordance with the relevant insurance premium table, and taking into account any loadings which may apply specifically to you, are deducted from your account monthly and may be adjusted for any changes to your cover during a financial year. We remit premiums to the Insurer monthly.

Insurance cover only commences if you meet the eligibility criteria, and the Insurer has accepted your application. Insurance cover ceases in certain circumstances, including when your maximum insurable age is reached, there is insufficient money in your account to pay for cover, or your account is deemed to have been inactive for 16 consecutive months and you have not elected to maintain cover despite inactivity. If your insurance ceases for any reason and you later decide you want to recommence cover, you will need to apply and be accepted by the Insurer. Eligible members can obtain insurance cover by transferring existing cover held within another super fund when rolling over to Future Super under transfer terms acceptable to the Insurer. The Insurance Transfer form is available by contacting us on 1300 658 422.

Insurance cover is optional with Future Super. Information about the insurance offered and how to apply for cover is provided in the Insurance Guide which is available at www.futuresuper.com.au or by contacting Future Super on 1300 658 422 or by email to info@futuresuper.com.au.

WARNING: Insurance terms and conditions (in particular: eligibility criteria, cover cessation circumstances and exclusions) may affect your entitlement to insurance cover or the payment of insured benefits, so you should read the Insurance Guide before deciding whether insurance is appropriate for you.

You should read the important information about insurance (including when cover starts and ends, eligibility criteria for commencement of cover and payment of insured benefits, the level and types of cover available, premium costs, exclusions, and other important terms and conditions) before making a decision. For more information, read the Insurance Guide available at www.futuresuper.com.au or call 1300 658 422. The information relating to insurance may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire this product.

- A complaint can be made verbally or in writing. Please address your complaint to The Complaints Officer, Future Super, PO Box 1282, Albury, NSW 2640 or send electronically to info@futuresuper.com.au.

The receipt of complaints will be acknowledged by the Fund. The complaint will be investigated, and action initiated to resolve the matter. A written response will be made as soon as possible but within the timeframes prescribed by superannuation legislation.

The Complaints Officer will investigate your complaint and write to inform you of the results of that investigation no later than 45 calendar days after receiving your complaint (unless the complaint relates to a death benefit distribution, in which case the Complaints Officer will respond no later than 90 calendar days after the expiry of the 28 calendar day period for objecting to a proposed death benefit distribution).

For any complaint that is unable to be resolved to your satisfaction, or if you do not receive a response within the legislative timeframes (45 days from the date of making your complaint where the complaint was made on or after 5 October 2021 and 90 days for complaints received prior to 5 October 2021 and for any complaint relating to a death benefit), the government has established an independent body, the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA).

AFCA's contact details are:

Mail: Australian Financial Complaints Authority
GPO Box 3
Melbourne VIC 3001

Phone: 1800 931 678
Email: info@afca.org.au
Website: www.afca.org.au

Complaints may be submitted by both current and former members, and their beneficiaries, and will largely be dealt with by correspondence. AFCA can deal with complaints that relate to a decision or a failure to make a decision by a trustee or a person acting for a trustee, in relation to a particular individual. AFCA cannot deal with certain complaints, for example, complaints about the management of a fund as a whole.
